

NextGen Revenue Cycle Analytics and Consultative Services

Targeted analytics with expert support help you fine-tune your revenue cycle and keep pace with ever-increasing demands of medical practice.

Revenue cycle analytics allows medical practices to track and interpret their data, identify metrics that are falling behind, and, once issues are uncovered, optimize operations to address them. Often, revenue cycle analytics identifies revenue your practice has earned but is being left on the table.

Now you can access the power of analytics combined with expert support with NextGen® Revenue Cycle Analytics and Consultative Services.

Optimize operations

Let NextGen Healthcare help you optimize your practice's operations with analytics combined with consultative services. Access revenue cycle analytics that are:

- Tailored to your practice specialty
- Based on key performance indicators (KPIs) selected specifically for your practice
- Easily viewed and interpreted through a user-friendly dashboard

The revenue cycle analytics dashboard enables you to drill down and dig deeper into your data and what it signifies. Plus, you get consultative support. Each month, your data is explained and elaborated upon by a subject matter expert trained in revenue cycle management for your specialty area. Your practice is updated with new data daily and with new analytics reports at the start of each month.

NextGen Revenue Cycle Analytics and Consultative Services provides actionable insights that are easy to put to use. Don't miss out on revenue that's right in front of you.

Prepare for inevitable challenges—and overcome them

These past few years have shown that obstacles that threaten the viability and success of medical practice can arise at any moment. With revenue cycle analytics, you have greater opportunity to predict problems before they occur. And when issues do arise, you are better prepared to adapt and overcome them.

When you better understand your practice's data, you strengthen your ability to take action. Minimize the harm caused by appointment cancellations, coding denials, poorly utilized appointment times, and other inefficiencies.

You can use that missed revenue. It's right there. What are you waiting for?
